An enjoining order brought against Wrestling Federation preventing the holding of elections to the Body was lifted last week by the Colombo District Court which also refused the application for an interim injunction.

The action was brought by a member of the Federation on the grounds that the voting list was not properly drawn up.

The defendants took up the position that the voting list was ratified at the meeting of 12th January 2000.

Deputy Minister, Salinda Dissanayake and Director of Sports, Milton Amarasinghe were named among the defendants.

District Judge K. N. Chitrasiri refused the application for the interim injunction on the basis of objections taken by the respondents. Court also reserved order on the question as to whether the plaint should be dismissed.

Hiran de Alwis with Shrimal Weerakkody appeared for the respondents. Ranjan Suvandarathne with S. Laktilake appeared for the petitioner.
